"Glad You Live in Michigan" Is Theme Of This Year's State Week

Gigantic Sales Forces are rolling about to make people here glad they live in Michigan and people from other states wish they did.
 It's the focal point of Michigan Week, May 15 to 21 to encourage people to count their blessings.
 Retailers, wholesalers and manufacturers are the latest to join the annual crusade sponsored by the Michigan Economic Development Department.
 The department's day-to-day job is luring industries and businesses into Michigan, keeping a fine polish on the state's economy, and reminding folks that the grass is greener on this side of the fence.
 The big project of the year is Michigan Week and this year the theme is, "I'm Glad I Live in Michigan."
 More than 8,000 activity bulletins will be in the hand of retailers to help with promotional ideas and manufacturers have been brought into the project.
 Veterans organizations, business

By LYN CONNELLY
 The Michigan Department of Transportation is planning a series of television spots on the state highway system.
 "The World of Mr. Sweeney" starring veteran movie and stage actor Charlie Ruggles. Each day is a complete skit in Sweeney's life and his "world" consists of his grocery store and his small grandson whose mischievous antics never snow his grandfather under at all.
 The story is well written, there are no heavy guffaws, but many a quiet chuckle as Sweeney tries to straighten out a knotty problem concerning either his grandson or one of his customers.
 Ruggles is a natural in the role.
 The whole show is a complete delight and it is for this reason that we find it difficult to realize just why it isn't sponsored.
 By and large daytime television leaves much to be desired.
 The air is filled with misery as heroine after heroine staggers through one soap opera after another.
 All these headaches are sponsored but along comes a show like "The World of Mr. Sweeney," an innocuous little story about human foibles and no one is interested.
 It's a sad world when Fortis and her "Guffaws" can face life with far more confidence than poor old Sweeney.
 Here's hoping somebody comes to his rescue before he suffers an early demise.

IDOL CHATTER
COLUMBIA—Rosmary Clooney has a new disc to celebrate the birth of her son... "Where Will the Dimple Be?" is on one side with "Brahms Lullaby" backing it.
 The latter tune has a set of new lyrics. Peggy King tries to do for "Any Questions?" what Joan Fisher did for "Let Me Go, Lover." Both songs were introduced in TV shows but not as widely circulated.
Business and Industry will again be asked to foot the bill for expanding state government. And they seem willing to accept the burden on their terms. Because, of this, the business-receipts tax is a "popular" one; its alternative a corporate profits tax is a threat to be avoided. Budget leaders in the legislature are ready to cut $24 million from Gov. Williams' $292 million budget for 1955-56 and the problem is where to find the extra money needed.
 Legislators estimate they will need between $25 million and $30 million at the outside while some estimates go as low as $14 million. Greater rise of existing taxes are expected to help.
 Republicans still are strongly resisting any mention of Williams' corporation profits tax proposal, ignored for seven years. They are ignored on higher rates for the $30 million business activities tax.

 The best bet at the moment is that the legislature will add to the rate of the business activities tax enough to bring in about $25 million more.
 Senator Carlton H. Morris (R-Kalamazoo), chairman of the Senate taxation committee, gives his reason for opposing Williams' tax program.
 "It isn't flexible. One year we would get enough, the next year not nearly enough. We'd be constantly on the edge of a cliff."

Warn On Blasting Caps

A campaign to alert the public to the dangers of blasting caps was launched today by Sheriff John A. Papendick. A child finding a blasting cap must let it alone, the officer said, as he "would be a rattle snake."
 Know a cap when you see one, to avoid deadly danger, is the sheriff's advice. Blasting caps are bright copper or aluminum tubes, about as big around as a pencil, and from an inch and a half to two inches long. A cap may or may not have a fuse attached. Some have plain or colored wires at one end. They contain a highly sensitive explosive and are necessary to explode dynamite to build bridges, roads and skyscrapers, quarry stone and mine coal and metals.
 Sheriff Papendick explained that some youngsters recognize the caps when they see them, but do not know what they are for. They seem to instinctively know, he said, that caps will explode and make a noise and so hit them deliberately with a rock or hammer. Some times they throw them into fires just to hear the explosion. Last year as a result of such accidents, many children were seriously injured. Some lost fingers or hands, others were blinded for life.
 The sheriff explained that he is sounding this warning at the urgent request of the National Sheriff's Association and the Institute of Makers of Explosives who for many years have been carrying on a vigorous educational campaign to acquaint the public with the dangers of blasting caps.
 A boy or girl finding a cap, the sheriff warned, "should leave it alone, warn any other children who may be nearby and call me." Some other law enforcement officer.

HERE'S HOW New 1955 No-NOX burns clean...

HERE'S WHAT New 1955 No-NOX does for engine

This spark plug is from one of the original equipment plugs used in Gulf test fleet cars. Normally, plugs need cleaning or replacement after 5,000 to 10,000 miles. This plug and its mates did not need cleaning or replacement after 15,000 miles with new NO-NOX.

What's more...No gasoline—no, not a single one—has higher octane than...

This is GULF'S PLEDGE to the motoring public
 • We at Gulf make this promise to America's motorists. We will not permit a single competitor—no, not a single one—to offer a gasoline superior to our own superb No-NOX.
 • It is our sincere belief that No-NOX is the finest gasoline on the market today, and no matter what others do or say we will keep it the finest—in power, in performance, in engine protection.
 • This is not a boast, not a claim. It is a pledge to you, the motoring public—a pledge backed by the resources—and the integrity—of the Gulf Refining Company.

NEW 1955 GULF NO-NOX
 Fill up now with new Super-Refined Gulf NO-NOX and feel the difference in power that really works for you mile after mile. Right from the start, you'll get these lasting benefits:
 • More complete engine protection than with so-called "miracle-additive" gasolines.
 • Extra gas mileage in the short-trip, stop-and-go driving you do most.
 • Stall-proof smoothness... instant starts... fast, fuel-saving warm-up.
 • No knock, no pre-ignition—even in today's high-compression engines.

It's super-refined...to burn clean!

From the Duncannon Record, Duncannon, Pennsylvania: As I gag through the jokes, the lies and comments on ever and increasing pursuits of happiness, I feel a staggering sense of futility with fate when I do not subscribe to the method, with which the supplements obtain fulfillment. If, for example, I read that to raise my children in the proper manner, I will allow them a free head of steam and will not raise a wail—or even think about it—upon their rosy little posteriors. I wonder if my father's backhand was altogether wasted, and if my own life has been warped by occasional whiplashes. For it is in the mind of child psychology that the supplements shine most boldly, have all the best prepared answers and the wildest alarms; prepare the dimmest pictures of the future and the wildest omens for the present.

From the Fulton Leader, Fulton, New York: The phrase "juvenile delinquency" is being shouted from the house-tops these days and muttered from basement windows. Teachers, police, clergy, editors, politicians, clubs and societies talk and write about it constantly. Violence and lawlessness among young people is said to be growing, and some of the elders are p' scared. 's evil

From the Etowah News Journal, Attala, Alabama: "It doesn't look right somehow—Oh, I see—I've made a little mistake in the pattern—away back there." And the little lady held up the dainty bit of fancywork for her friends inspection.

"Better make it right before you go on," said the friend. But the little lady shook her head. "It won't show much. It isn't worth the bother."

Many times afterward she wished she had remedied that trifling fault in her work. She always knew it was there; others saw it, and marred the pleasure of the whole thing. Instead of the unadulterated enjoyment of the pretty work, the little lady grew to dislike the very sight of it—to see only the mistake, to watch others find it and mention it.

Sociology Students Visit State Hospital

Students of the Sociology Class under the guidance of Mr. Earl Gierke, Sociology teacher, made a visit to Traverse City State Hospital on Thursday of last week. They spent from 1 o'clock to 3:15 going through the institution, and were escorted by Mr. Curtis, the social worker connected with the hospital. They visited many of the patients, and learned that because of State help, patient cost rates were much lower than in other hospitals. The class was told of how some of the new medicines are greatly improving mental patients, and were given booklets telling the One, Two, Three of Mental Health. Those who made the trip were Bob Hull, Ed Holt, camp, Mary Richardson, John Robertson, Melvin Moore, Shirley Matthews, Pete Stephan, Bethlyn Campbell, Nancy Lowe, Dick Lantz, Emma Jean Cole, Peggy Lantz, Donald Thompson, Mary Jane Wakeley, Keith Warner, Steve Jorgensen, Mike Gibbons, Hans Andrews, Melvin Luter, Orlin Lucksted, Lloyd Failing, Jim Parkinson, Gary Parkinson, Charles Keway and Lawrence Canfield. The class wishes to thank Mrs. Glen Fenton, Mr. Earl Gierke, Mrs. Agnes Richardson, Mrs. Frances Warner and Rev. Hollie Luter for transporting the students to and from Traverse City.

Guard Seek Full Camp Attendance

A campaign to achieve 100 per cent attendance at the Michigan National Guard's 1955 field training was announced today by Major General George C. Moran, The Adjutant General of Michigan.

As part of the campaign personal letters have been addressed by the Adjutant General's Office to secretaries of Chambers of Commerce in 54 communities supporting National Guard units and to executives of trade associations. General Moran asked their assistance in informing employers of 1955 field training dates and the need for adequate military leave policies.

Annual field training for the more than 12,000 Michigan National Guardsmen will extend over a two-month period this year. The Adjutant General said. Three antiaircraft artillery battalions and their supporting units, totaling some 350 troops, will initiate 1955 field training June 28 at Camp Haven, Wis. The units will return to home stations July 10.

Michigan Air National Guard units, with a total strength of 1,400 officers and airmen, will train at Alpena Air National Guard Base July 30 to August 13.

Largest of the field training sessions will take place at Camp Grayling, where the 48th Infantry Division, less tank units, will undergo an intensive two weeks of training in the field. Camp strength at this session is estimated at 8,950 officers and men.

Tank units of the Michigan National Guard will train August 7 to 21 at Fort Knox, Ky. Strength of these units is 600. During the same period Company A, 878th Engineer Aviation Battalion, Romulus, consisting of 60 officers and men, will hold its two weeks of field training at Camp Williams, Camp Douglas, Wis.

Some 250 Guardsmen assigned to Detroit's 148th Antiaircraft Artillery Battalion and the 22nd Antiaircraft Artillery Detachment will wind up the 1955 field training season August 13 to 27 at Camp Claybanks, north of Muskegon.

In his letters to Chambers of Commerce and Trade Associations, General Moran stressed the importance of the full-time training program. "Operation Minuteman provided an excellent test of our mobilization efficiency," General Moran declared. "Annual field training will provide an indication of the training efficiency of our units and their personnel." Operation Minuteman, carried out on April 20, was a nationwide test alert of the National Guard.

Instructions to seek military leave for their men in order to achieve full attendance at 1955 field training have gone out to all Michigan National Guard unit commanders. Last year, a total of 10,830 officers and men, or 96.28 per cent of assigned strength, attended field training sessions of the Michigan Army and Air National Guard.

Favorable military leave policies already have been established by many employers of Michigan Guardsmen. Military leave with full pay in addition to the regular vacations is granted by some employers. Two weeks' military leave in addition to regular vacations plus the difference between regular pay and Guard pay is provided by others. Still others grant two weeks' military leave without pay in addition to regular vacations.

Ski Promotion Pays Off Well

Skiers spent $453,600 last year as a result of the $7,000.00 advertising and promotional program of the East Michigan Winter Sports Council, according to Frank Davis, secretary of the East Michigan Tourist Association in Bay City.

A questionnaire survey, which was completed recently, revealed that of the 1,500 ski groups who wrote to the association's offices for a folder as a result of advertising, 80% of them actually participated in winter sports. The total figure was based on the average expenditure of $12.00 per day (excluding equipment). They stayed for an average of six days and they averaged about seven in a party. This figure doesn't include a large number of people who are inclined to advertise but don't bother to write for additional information nor does it include phone calls for further information resulting from advertising. So the actual total figure resulting from this promotion is probably somewhat higher than the figure given. Total expenditure of skiers is around six and a half million dollars according to MSU's Bureau of Business Research.

This year the program of the Winter Sports Council was aimed primarily to build up a testing market by encouraging youngsters to take up skiing and it appeared from the replies to the questionnaire that most who were swayed by advertising were beginners.

The principal features of this promotion included a new illustrated folder, newspaper and radio advertising, general publicity and snow condition reports. Davis pointed out that those who reacted to this survey enjoyed their winter sports during the winter for an average of six days, mostly on week ends. He indicated that the more experienced skier who has grown to enjoy the sport will ski an average of eighteen days during the winter months.

The survey replies contained a number of suggestions for the improvement of winter sports. The most common suggestion was that there was a need for enlargement of some parks and more ski areas, plus more towns, because of the congestion on the week ends. Other points mentioned were that there was a need for more entertainment for non-skiers, more beginner areas, family rates and better and enlarged restroom facilities. Most of the replies indicated satisfaction with present conditions. Davis estimated that attendance at winter sports parks increased 10% to 15% over the previous year.

"I REMEMBER" BY THE OLDTIMERS

From Mrs. Ida Simpson, Lawrenceburg, Kentucky: "I was raised on a farm in Southern Kentucky and wonder how many can remember carrying eggs to a country store three miles away over a mountain trail—for 5 cents a dozen? About the year 1882 or 83 my mother kept a large flock of hens and would give the eggs to us children if we would hunt them in the hay lofts, feed rooms and everywhere else and carry them to the store.

With our money we would buy all kinds of things—cocoa at 5 cents a yard, gingham at 10 cents, and sometimes sugar, rice or green coffee which the grocer, having no paper bags, would wrap neatly and tie with twine made from paper. We children would soak the twine in water, untwist it and make ribbons to trim our paper hats. The heavy brown paper the grocer used to wrap things is never seen these days.

I also remember how mother would roast the coffee in a heavy iron skillet on top of the stove.

From Mrs. Lida A. Kopley Meyer, Gardner, Colorado: "I remember when we made apple butter and pumpkin butter in a big iron kettle. We put up our own meat and had a smokehouse. Canned goods were unheard of. The schoolhouse sat upon cornerpieces about a foot high. We knew nothing about basketball or football, but played 'ante over'."

Head-hunters believe that the heads of their victims contain their souls, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

WORKERS NEEDED FOR RED CROSS CLUB PROGRAM

Opportunities for immediate placement as recreation workers in the American Red Cross Overseas Club Programs are now open to qualified young women between the ages of 24 and 30. It was announced today by Leslie This, Director of Personnel, Red Cross Midwestern Area Office.

In all, a total of 80 young women are needed to provide leisure time programs for U. S. troops presently serving in remote areas in Korea, Europe and North Africa.

The Red Cross Overseas Club Program is part of its traditional responsibility of service to the armed forces and supplements the Army Special Services Program.

Mrs. This stated that most of the young women are needed to replace recreation workers now returning from Korea, where they drive automobiles to isolated areas to encourage and plan soldier participation in recreational activities.

In Europe and North Africa, the recreation workers operate Red Cross centers with the assistance of local civilian and U. S. dependent volunteers. The centers help provide servicemen with the opportunity to become better acquainted with local community resources and to participate in recreation activities.

To be eligible, women must have college training with a special aptitude for group recreation, music, dramatics, and art. Physical fitness is also essential, and applicants must be willing to accept assignment wherever needed in the world.

For all recreation workers assigned overseas, the Red Cross pays maintenance, travel expense, and provides an initial uniform allowance. The salary scale will be determined according to background and experience.

Women interested in receiving further information on these opportunities should write to the Director of Personnel Service, Midwestern Area Office, American National Red Cross, 4080 Lindell Boulevard, St. Louis 8, Mo., or contact their nearest Red Cross Chapter.
